

Friends of Wandsworth Park

Privacy Policy

This privacy policy sets out how Friends of Wandsworth Park collects and uses any information you may give us when you visit this website, as well as how we may disclose that information, and how you can control the collection, correction and/or deletion of that information.

Your privacy is our priority and we go to great lengths to protect it. Any information we collect about you will always be handled securely and in compliance with the UK Data Protection Act (1998) and all other relevant legislation.

What information do we collect?

We only collect your name, address, email and phone number as provided by you. This data enables you to get involved with Friends of Wandsworth Park membership and events.

Any correspondence you send electronically may be retained, such as the content of your email messages, your email address and our response.

We may also retain any information you upload to our website, such as content and pictures.

We only collect the information that we need to fulfil the purposes set out at collection. You can update this information or unsubscribe at any time.

How will we use your data?

The information you provide may be used to:

- Keep you up to date with Friends of Wandsworth Park activities, opportunities and event invitations
- Offer you the opportunity to engage with our activities
- Respond to your queries; process your membership application
- Operate, maintain and provide to you the features and functionality of our website. You may opt out from receiving such information at any time.

Unfortunately, the transmission of information via the internet is not completely secure. Although we will do our best to protect your personal data, we cannot guarantee the security of your data transmitted to our site; any transmission is at your own risk.

We will never share or sell your information without your permission. We are committed to protecting your data in accordance with the GDPR.

Cookies

Cookies are small text files placed on your device when you visit our website. They allow us to make the website easier to use, to provide you with a more personalised experience, to guard against malicious activities and to ensure any login feature functions correctly. They do not collect personal information about you.

You can remove or block cookies by changing the settings in your browser, but the functionality of the website may be affected.

By using our website, you are consenting to our use of cookies in accordance with this notice. If you do not agree to our use of cookies then we advise you to set your browser settings accordingly.

Opting out

You have the ability to terminate email correspondence from us at any time. You will either be given the chance to opt-in to direct mailing when you disclose your email address to us, or you can simply reply to our email, typing 'unsubscribe' in the subject line.

Other websites

The website may contain links to other sites which are outside our control and not covered by this policy.

Changes to this Policy

This policy replaces all previous versions and is correct as at May 2018. We reserve the right to change the policy at any time. Any changes to this policy will be posted here.
